

Privacy Statement for RomAide, Inc.

RomAide, Inc. has developed this privacy statement in order to show our firm's commitment to privacy. The following describes the information gathering and dissemination policies for this site.

This site uses cookies to maintain our data-collection information.

Our site registration form requires users to give us contact information (such as their email address). The customer's contact information is used to contact the visitor when necessary.

This site uses an order form for customers to request information, products, and services. We collect visitor's contact information (such as their email address), financial information (such as their account or credit card numbers), individual identifying information (such as their social security number), and demographic information (such as their zip code, age, or income level). Contact information from the order form is used to send orders to our customers. The customer's contact information is used to contact the customer when necessary. Financial information that is collected is used to check the users' qualifications and bill the user for products and services. Individual identifying information (such as social security numbers) are collected from visitors to verify the user's identity. Demographic and profile data is also collected at our site, and is used to better suit product offerings to our customers. All individually identifiable data that we collect about visitors to our site is securely maintained, and is never disclosed to third parties (except by operation of law), without the consent of the individual so identified. By completing and submitting any application for credit or merchant credit card/ACH check processing account information or number, the site visitor will have given consent for us to disclose the information contained in such application to the credit grantor or merchant credit card/ACH check processor indicated in such application or credit card/ACH check transaction.
